O'REILLY®

The O'Reilly difference

Our learning platform offers more breadth and depth of content and features to help your tech teams stay ahead.
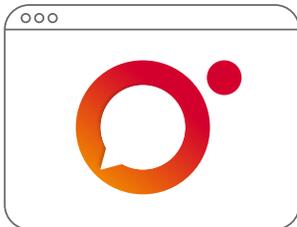

Live online events with experts

Your teams can take live training courses and attend virtual tech events with some of today's most renowned experts, and ask questions along the way.

Trusted content you can count on

More than 60K titles from O'Reilly and nearly 200 trusted publishing partners including Harvard Business Review, Pearson, and more. Plus, over 30K hours of video, case studies, and more.
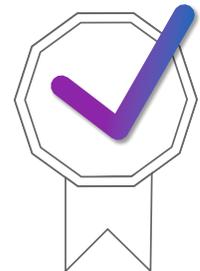

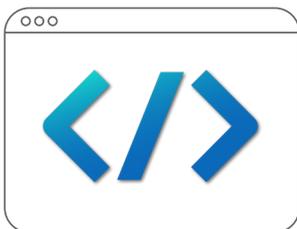

Instant answers to tough tech questions

Ask our NLP engine any tech question and get instant answers from thousands of trusted O'Reilly books—from a quick description to code they can put to work immediately.

Certification prep materials

Your teams get direct paths to the official prep materials plus practice exams for the most sought-after technical certifications in the industry.
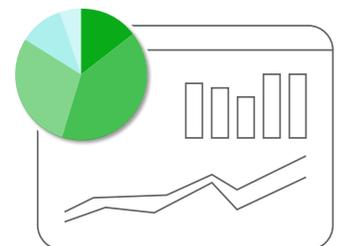

Interactive scenarios and sandboxes

Team members can get hands-on experience with Kubernetes, Docker, Python, Java, and more—in a live dev environment they can access from any browser.

Industry-leading insights dashboard

Understand more than just what your team members are viewing—know how they're learning. Then compare their usage to competitors in your industry.
